- c) Retroactive discounts under HUF 1 000 per customer (Points 6.1 and 6.2 (c)) are not accounted.

4 The possibility of combining discounts, the basis of calculating and accounting the discount based on turnover

- a) The basis of the calculation of the discount is the combined price, not reduced by discounts, of postal services performed for the business association signing a separate written contract enabling the use of the discount as the sender (hereinafter: Contracting Party) in the current year the fee for which is settled by the Contracting Party pursuant to the General Terms and Conditions for Postal Services by transfer (i.e. only by payment on credit or payment of postage using a franking machine; hereinafter: gross turnover). The discount system does not extend to the payment of postage by postage stamp and prepaid envelopes/postcards.
- b) Special terms and conditions relating to clients with company groups:
 - I. The following organisations classified as business associations pursuant to the Act on civil procedure and other organisations (hereinafter: business associations) may belong to a company group (group of organisations):
 - I.1. business associations in which the Contracting Party has, either directly or indirectly, an ownership share of at least 25%, taking into consideration the actual ownership stakes (via a business association designated in the contract regulating inter alia the use of the discount system as a group member), or
 - I.2. which use a common lead word in their names referring to the Contracting Party or another member of the Contracting Party's company group, and are not independent of the Contracting Party because under agreements concluded with the members of the company group the Contracting Party or another member of the Contracting Party's company group acts as their trustee (which means that it is entitled to have a substantial and dominant influence on their financial/administrative/economic decisions) provided that the business associations that are part of the given company group and are regarded as such under this paragraph (not including the trustee) are not classified as a business association under the Civil Code, or

I.3. whose operating mechanisms, scope of activities and core business activities are basically the same and which, while maintaining their organisational independence, have proprietary rights directly or indirectly in a business association as defined in the Civil Code which is regarded as a Contracting Party and centrally arranges purchases as well as technical, operational and development affairs of the same nature for the members of the company group in a way that they do not perform such activities by way of business for business associations other than those that are part of the company group, or

I.4. in respect of which the Contracting Party is classified under the Civil Code as a business association and is entitled to control or co-ordinate the professional or financial/economic activity of any other members of the company group (group of organisations) established for the purposes of performing special tasks as defined in the relevant legislation, or

I.5. which are classified as domestic business associations under the Civil Code in each of which the same natural person or domestic or foreign registered business association not classified as a Contracting Party has, either directly or indirectly, a share of the ownership of at least 25% taking into account the actual ownership stakes (through a foreign business association or domestic registered business association that is part of the given group).

- II. A further condition of using the discount is that all business associations stated in the separate written contract regulating inter alia the use of the discount system sign the clause forming part of the said written contract in which they undertake to fulfil the conditions of the discount. (Should a business association fail to sign the clause, that particular business association's turnover for the current year will not be included in the turnover of the business associations that are part of the same company group from the aspect of providing discounts [hereinafter: Group of Users] in the year in question.)

The annual gross turnover performed by clients with a company group shall be taken into account as the consolidated gross turnover of the Group of Users.

- III. If the business associations that are part of the Group of Users do not have a turnover that can be shown for the whole of the year preceding the current year, the gross turnover calculated for 1 year by directly proportioning the turnover shown in the preceding year will be taken into account in respect of the discount elements where the discount rate is significantly influenced by the preceding year's turnover.
- IV. The current year's gross turnover generated by a business association can only be taken into account for determining that year's consolidated gross turnover of one company group (group of organisations) at any one time.

- V. If the conditions set out in the General Terms and Conditions for Postal Services are fulfilled, all business associations that are part of the same company group are entitled to use the discount available for the Contracting Party, but turnovers can only and exclusively be combined in the case of the discount based on turnover and the discount based on turnover increase.
- c) In the case of the discount based on turnover, should the current year's gross turnover of the Contracting Party or the Group of Users exceed the turnover taken into consideration upon the execution of the contract to such an extent that the Contracting Party or the Group of Users becomes entitled to a higher rate of discount, Magyar Posta shall transfer the amount of the discount difference in a lump sum subsequently by no later than 31 January of the following year based on a corrected invoice. If the current year's gross turnover of the Contracting Party or the Group of Users remains below the minimum annual gross turnover required for the rate of discount specified in the separate written contract, the Contracting Party shall pay the amount of the recognised discount difference subsequently on the basis of a corrected invoice issued by Magyar Posta.

6 Method of discount accounting

- 6.1. Accounting discounts to be granted for the period between the initial date of use of the separate written contract on discounts and the date of execution of the contract:

Accounting shall take place retroactively based on a corrected invoice.

- 6.2. After signing the separate written contract:

- a) The discount based on turnover, the discount granted for the use of the electronic posting list and the discount on load are accounted on the due invoice relating to the period of performance.

In the case of the merger by acquisition of Contracting Organisations, the period of performance is to be understood with regard to the acquired organisation as the period extending up to the date of the merger by acquisition. After the merger, in calculating the turnover of the successor Contracting Organisation, the turnover of the organisation acquired established in accordance with the foregoing up to the merger cannot be taken into account.

- b) The discount granted for the use of a franking machine is accounted by correcting the invoice containing the dispatch data of the month in question.

- c) The turnover increase and the Key Partner discount are accounted in one sum on a corrected invoice by 31 January of the year following the year in question (for company groups, in the absence of a separate written contract with the Contracting Party to the contrary, separately for each business association that is part of the Group of Users).

In the case of the merger by acquisition of Contracting Organisations, the period of performance is to be understood with regard to the acquired organisation as the period extending up to the date of the merger by acquisition. After the merger, in calculating the turnover of the successor Contracting Organisation, the turnover of the organisation acquired established in accordance with the foregoing up to the merger cannot be taken into account.

For the successor Contracting Organisation, when establishing the annual turnover in the year prior to the year in question of the postal services taken as the basis for accounting the Key Partner discount, in addition to the full gross turnover of the successor Contracting Organisation in the year prior to the year in question reduced by the amount of the value added tax to be charged if applicable, the full gross turnover of the organisation acquired in the year prior to the year in question, examined in the same calendar period in the year prior to the year in question as the calendar period following the date of the merger, reduced by the amount of the value added tax to be charged if applicable, must also be taken into account.

- d) The discounts described in Point 6.2 paragraph c) are accounted monthly if the separate written contract stipulates this. Based on the Contracting Party's expected annual turnover, the expected annual amount of the discount is calculated by the twentieth day of the month after the close of the current month, and the amount of the annual discount for the current month will be applied in the following invoice only for the proportion of actual turnover achieved.

After the close of the year the amount of the annual discount is calculated. The difference between the discount invoiced each month and the discount due based on the annual turnover is accounted on a corrected invoice in one sum by 31 January following the year under review.

If the monthly calculation of the discounts is not set out in the separate written contract, the discount elements are calculated in accordance with Point 6.2 paragraph c).

6.3 Accounting if a discount element is terminated during the year

- a) If a discount element is terminated during the year, Magyar Posta will settle accounts with the Contracting Party with regard to the terminated discount element within 60 days of the date of its termination.
- b) If the Contracting Party does not have a turnover that can be shown for the whole of the year under review due to the termination of a turnover-type discount element during the year, the rate or amount of the discount shall be calculated on the basis of the gross turnover shown for the same period of the preceding year.
